Thuisleefgids
The company consisted of the founder, 4 interns and me when I started. I've set up the basis for all the IT for the company. For this I worked together with Data Engineers, Data Scientists, Web Agencies, WordPress developers, SEO/SEA specialist, and AFAS Consultants. I did this while keeping the costs as low as possible (e.g. free AFAS consultants and an awesome Wordpress Developer based in India).

Gradually the Founder wanted to go a different way than I would chose and therefore our paths split. At the end the team consists of 4 full-time, 3 part-time, 2 interns and two external software development teams. In 2019 the revenue grew from 0 to about 150k. Not profitable yet, but definitely not a bad start I'd say.

For now I still help them and give advice as a Remote Freelancer.
